Moments that bring people together, memories that last.

A word from François

A great atmosphere is never improvised.

I have been singing on stage for years, and I have learned one thing: music makes an evening work when it follows what is happening in the room. The welcome, the speeches, the dinner, the moment the dance floor fills up.

With Anima Musica, I bring together the musicians, the DJ and the technical set-up your event needs, and I remain your contact from the first call until everything is packed away.

In these pages you will find what we do, how we work and a few of the moments we have shared on stage.
